Description
This library was obviously created from the GTK+ app for configuring the network. It has a bunch of files that don't belong in this tree (but are not in the library): callbacks.c cli.c interface.c main.c msgDialog.c support.c The documentation (README) is also incorrect. It should reflect that this is a library for reading/writing network configuration files only.

Duh. That's wrong. This repo builds a gtk interface that uses libpiboxnet. But it also builds that library. So the build and documentation is correct, although the README should be updated to reflect what is being built.
