Severity:	01 - Critical

Description

I need to get a new API key for tvdb.com and re-register with this, as the changed API now requires additional use information.

I also need to check what changed in the API. I haven't used VideoLib for a while so it needs to be retested to see if it still works with TV episodes.

This all needs to happend before 12/31/2019 or else I could lose API access.

There was nothing to do here. I just needed to login to my account and add some contact information to the API key information. The key still works. Closing issue.
